B is a pompous march of modern cut in the finale of which interwoven with the themes that had done service alone up to that point appears the melody of the Ismiliar college song. Ecce quan bonum. The manifest purpose is to have the melody sung by the people who fisten to the march, as was Wagner's idea with the choral part of the march, as was Wagner's idea with the choral part of his "Kaisermarsch," but last night it was given out by a special choir of cornets and trombones. The piece has an inspiring awing and is a fine example of recondite yet graceful and elastic writing.

This young woman comes back to her native country after s five years squarn in Europe, a portion of which was wasted in Italy, and a portion spent to excellent advantage with Mme. Marchesi, in Paris. Six years ago say wasted in Italy, and a portion spent to excellent advantage with Mme. Marchesi, in Paris. Six years ago say with a woice that has lost none of the purity, freshness, and lovely quality which characterized it when she sang as Mr. Thomas's concerts in her native town, and with riper musical intolligence, a broader style and deeper receiling. Mr. Whiting's air, which is gracefully conceived, eleverly orchestrated and pleasing, has fulled warmth in it, and therefore gave Miss Van no opportunity to show her command of the utterances of passion which are so large a portion of song literature; but that she is in no way deficient in sympathy is shown in her voice color and the fidelity to truth of her deciamation.

The reception of the music was cordial throughout the evening, and Miss Van scored an immediate success, being recalled with a unanimity and heartiness which was in the highest degree flattering to an artist appearing for the first time in a strange city. She was compelled to repeat a portion of the air and returned and another outburst of applause, in which the orchestrajoined. Miss Marguiles and M. Musin were also called on to supplement their performances, and in order not to introduce a foreign element into the programme, they also repeated portions of the set pieces. Mr. Van der Stucken was enthusiastically recalled after his march, and received a floral lyre from the Arion Society. Altogether the concert was as interesting as any of the series and seemed to be enjoyed by the audience hore than any, a significant fact in view of the frequent assertions on the part of concert projectors that noveities do not pay.

THE BEGGAR STUDENT.

Miss Emma Seebold's return to the stage of the Thaila Theatre last night attracted an audience that completely filled the house. When she appeared as Laura in "The Beggar Student" she received a flattering welcome. The people rose and cheered her for several minutes, and showered flowers upon the stage till she was entirely surrounded with them. Throughout the evening her singing was warmly applauded. She was in excellent voice, and at the close of the first act was recalled four times. Her support included Mr. Jerdinand Schulz as the beggar student, Miss Emma Meffert as Bronisianea, Mr. Max Lube as Colonet Oldendorf, and Mr. Bennhard Rank as the jailer. Mr. schulz's ainging was much enjoyed—his action was graceful and impressive. Mr. Lube and Mr. Rank created vast amusement by their felicitions comedy. Manazer Amberg has engaged Miss Seebo d for the coming season. the evening her singing was warmly applauded. She

WALKS AND TALKS IN THE CITY.

In talking with the moving spirits in the different schemes for Broadway railroads, one hears some interest-ing views presented. For instance, a Broadway mer-chant said to me the other day that it was an advantage to let the franchise go for $40,000 a year, when they might have sold it outright for half a million dollars. I suggested this to James Richmond when I met him and he said: "Mercy sakes! $10,000 a year just represents 8 per cent interest on the half million offer. Besides which, we must pay 5 per cent on our gross receipts. It which, we must pay by a risky one, whether or not the road will pay anything under such an expense." Mr. Richmond added: "The cable road is not practicable for one great reason. All the strain on the horses on a street car is in starting. The strain in a cable road is equal both in stopping and starting. Now just imagine a car on a cable road, starting and stopping, ctarting and stopping, from the Battery on up through the busy brong of vehicles in Broadway up to Fortieth-st. How throng of vehicles in Broadway up to Fortisth-st. How many times would it be obliged to start and stop! Any one may see from a mere thought that the cable would be strained beyond its endurance. It isn't like the broad streets of Caicago, where the cable road has full swine. But even there their cable troke four times in one winter." On the other hand, the cable railroad advo-cates any experience shows that vehicles keep out of the road of cable cars, whereas drivers would blockade a horse car and let it stand for a long time to the vexation of passengers.

Ex-Senator Wallace, of Pennsylvania, whom I met just before he started on his Southern trip, said to me:
"Positivery, I have not been an applicant for any office under President Cleveland; nor have I been offered one. I am so busy with my private affairs that I could not consider such an oner if it came to me. I have been kept at work for two or three years, summer and winter without any vacation, and am just starting on a small trip for my health. My relations with Mr. Randall are wholly friendly, in spite of the newspaper talk to the contrary.

A former member of the United States Senate said ye terday: "One of the carious things that happened to me at ashington the other day was to have a Virginian, a Colonel, come up to me at the Riggs House and begin Colonel, come up to me at the Riggs House and begin taking with all the familiarity of an old friend. He told me his name and the office he wanted. Then he launched out into a discussion of his family affairs. He had Custis blood in his veins, and was married to a descendant of George Washington. 'The Custis family,' he said, 'was hims blood and heaven the Washington in the Custis family,' he said, 'was George Washington. The Coasts mainly, as said, we blue-blooded, and honored the Washington family by siliance with it. The Washingtons were only poor white trush, sah. It struck me that the Colores would be a good man for Bayard to send abroad as a foreign ambassator, since he wants none but gentlemen of good lineage for that service."

W. S. Andrews, of Now-York, who is brought to th front as a candidate for the superintendency of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing at Washington, is an old Tilden agent. He originated what is known among the political workers as "the newspaper racket" in 1875 and 1876, when he had an office in Liberty-st. and pelted the newspapers of the country with complimentary notices of Mr. Tilden. Where it was impossible to secure the admission of these elliptings to the columns of Democratic newspapers in any other way they were paid for at so much per line as "local notices" or pulls. One influential Western Democratic paper is said to have been paid $10,000 for the publication of a series of been paid $10,000 for the publication of a series motices. A sturdy Democratic country editor at Mount Verson, Ohio, published the paid notices in one column, and in another column an editorial denouncing Tilden and explaining the paid character of the extracts, which gave away "the whole scheme. Mr. Andrews had charge of the publication department of the Democratic National Committee in 1876, 1880 and 1884.

THE LYCEUM SCHOOL HAS TO MOVE.

Several scores of camp-chairs, a bust of Shakespeare with a damaged nose and various other adds and ends were piled on the sidewalk in front of No. 18 West Twenty-third-st. yesterday afternoon. They were the household gods of the Lyceum Theatre School were the household gods of the Lyceum Theatre School of Acting. Owing to the financial difficulties of the Bpaders, who held a lease of the place, subletting a portion of it to the Lyceum peop e, a hasty notice to quit was given to the latter and school was dismissed therefore an hour earlier than usual yesterday. Studies will be resumed this morning at No. 24, a few doors below in the same street. Franklin Sargent, who was superintending the ramoval, said: "We paid our rent to the Messre. Spader, who had some difficulty with the owner of the property, to whom the lease has reverted. We tried to come to some arresment whereby we could lease our rooms directly from the owner, and I thought it was all settled. Some hitch occurred, however."

TRING TO DISMISS A PASACHAR.

TRENTON, March 31 (Special).—The trustees of the German Letheran Church, of which the Rev. Mr. Bentner is postor, informed him to-day that his services would not be required after July 1. They are anary at him for telling the reporters that Grombach, the young teacher who committed suicide, had acted indecently toward a number of his girl pupils and that fear of armset led to his rash act. The pastor has the right to appeal to the congregation and will do se. A split in the march is anticipated.

SELLING SENEY'S PICTURES. OVER $54,000 FOR NINETY-EIGHT WORKS.

A LARGE ATTENDANCE, BUT RATHER DULL BIDDING

-$3,525 THE HIGHEST PRICE. The interest taken by the public in the sale of the Seney collection, which for some time has been on view at the rooms of the American Art Association, was shown by the large attendance at Chickering Hall, where the sale began last night. Half an hour after the doors were opened the ground floor of the hall was entirely flited, and by the time the auctioneer, Thomas E. Kirby, stepped forward the gallery hat but few vacant seats. Admission was gained by tickets only, and of these the number issued was calculated simply to fill the hall.

Among those present were many ladies. Before the evening was over the vacant scats were not only filled, but most of the standing-room was also occupied. There were many well-known faces in the rows which gazed with eager attention at the carefully lighted, crimsondraped easel, which received in rapid succession one striking picture after another. The picture dealers were of course well represented, and in their ranks were were of course well represented, and in their ranks were found some of the most liberal bidders. Artists, too, were there, some of whom had the doubtful pleasure of seeing their pictures knocked down at prices rather less than given by the original purchasers. Stock brokers, merchants, men of leisure, with a sprinkling of those who were available, attracted by correctly along these who were evidently attracted by curiosity alone, made up the gathering. Brooklyn, the original home of the to collection, was represented by S. V. White, D. C. Lyle, H. T. Chapman, L. W. Buchanan, J. T. Martin and Aaron Healy. Others present were J. D. Slayback, G. 8. Chapin, Henry A. Hurtbut, W. Camp , H.

H. T. Chapman, L. W. Buchanan, J. T. Martin and Aaron Healy. Others present were J. D. Slayback, G. S. Chapin, Henry A. Huribut, W. Camp, H. L. Hotehkiss, Alexander Mitchell, Francis White, W. E. Connor, K. Knoedler, L. C. Delmonico, William Schaus, Julius Ochun, Mr. Obrig and Mr. Powers of Roohester.

At twenty minutes to 8 the acutioneer rapped for order, and in a few words prefaced the sale, saying that the pictures were sold as assets of the Metropolitan Bank absolutely without reserve. He then asked for a bid on the first number in the catalogus, "A Cavalier," by Brillionin, From $25 the bids ran up to $330, at which they stopped and the picture was sold. A landscape by Talt with deer in the foregroomal was then sold to L. W. Buchanan, for $200, and "A Coming Storm," by Wahlberg, to R. Halsted for $250. The first excitement was shown over a clever "Priest Fishing," by Herrmann, on which the bidding was brisk and reached the sam of $1,200. From this point the lext score of pictures brought prices under $500, the largest price, $450, being paid by Schaus for De Beaumont's "Old Beau."

By the Shore," by Stevens, then brought $525, and a clever picture by Knigat, $900, aiter a severe competition. Grison's "Market Day " hen brought some good bidders to the fron; and was eventually knocked down for $2,800. A small landscape by Th. Roussean, was bought by Mr. Powers, for $800, and Knoeder bid $1,750 for a Jules Duppe, and got it at that price. D. C. Lyle gave $400 for an interior by Raiperez, and Mr. Guidat $310 for a Richet. "The Path through the Woods," by Diaz, about which there has been some controversy, felt to S. V. White, for $1,075, while Mr. Walker, of Minocsota, bought " A Druidesse," by Herbert, for $825. When J. G. Brown's " Neighbors" was placed on the casel, there was a burst of applause from the spectators, an evidence as were the prices realized of the increasing estimation in which American artists are held by picture-buyers. " A Fisa Story," by the Erglish artus, Sadier, brought $1,000, and the

RAILROAD INTERESTS.

LEASE OF THE CENTRAL PACIFIC. NEW COMPANY FORMED TO CONTROL THE CEN

TRAL ADD SOUTHERN PACIFIC LINES. The Central Pacific Railroad has been leased with all its branches to the Southern Pacific Company, a corporation which controls the Southern railroad from San Francisco to New-Orleans, and steamship line from New-Orleans to New-York and other ports. A combination of the various lines forming what has been called the "Sunset Route" was recently made with the Southern Pacific Raliroad, was recently made with the Southern Pacific Railroad, and afterward the control of the entire line was vested in the Southern Pacific Company. The lease of the Central Pacific, which goes into effect to-day, places the whole Southern and Central Pacific. Pacific Railroad systems under not only one manage ment, but one corporate ownership. The Central Pacific is to receive under the terms of the lease a minimum sum of $1,200,000 a year above fixed charges and from that up to $3,660,000, or six per cent on the par value of the

In the preamble to the lease it is stated that the controlling reason for the lease is the diversion of business by new lines which do not use the Central Pacific, and the necessity of meeting this rivary by a union with a friendly line through to the Atlantic coast. The Southern Pacific Company, having the control of a through line, is selected as the ally. The conditions of the lease are intended to secure equal rights and protection to both companies, but may be changed at any time by arbitration. Separate accounts are to be kept, but the management is to be concentrated. All lines west of El Paso are to form the Pacific Division, and those cast of El Paso the Atlantic Division.

Leland Stanford is president of the new corporation; C. P. Huntington, first vice-president, and Charles Crocker, second vice-president A. N. Towne is general manager of the Pacific Division, and A. C. Hutchinson, of the Atlantic Division. The capital stock of the new corporation is $100,000,000.

Vice-President Huntington said last night: "We made the change for the sake of economy mainly. All the lines were owned practically by the same persons, but were operated separately under different organizations. We have been talking about the matter for a year or more, but have not considered it worth while to announce out plans until we were prepared to carry them into effect. The lease of the Central Pacific becomes operative to-morrow." In the preamble to the lease it is stated that the con-

THE PACIFIC MAIL SUBSIDY.

A short informal conference between representatives of the overland railroad companies and the Pacific Mail Steamship Company was held yesterday. Pacific Mail Steamship Company was held yesterday. President Houston wanted a larger subsidy for the steamship company, while Mr. Huntington and Mr. Adams were of the opinion that the amount of the subsidy should be reduced. No figures were made on either side and Vice-President Huntington of the Central Pacific distinctly declined to enter upon a new agreement on transcontinental business until he had received from his subordinate officers a report about the actual traffic. It is intimated that a settlement of the differences may be reached in a few days. Whether the subsidy will be increased or reduced is as yet unknown. Mr. Huntington repeated yesterday his statement that the railroad companies were paying too much, while officers of the steamship company declared that it was receiving too little.

L. V. F. Randolph having declined a reelection, the directors of the Illinois Central Railroad Company elected Stayvesant Fish treasurer of the company. Mr. Fish, who is also vice president of the company, will discharge the duties of both offices. William J. Maurice was re-elected secretary.

THE JUNCTION RAILEOAD CASE. PHILADELPHIA, March 31.-Lewis H. Taylor, of New-Jersey, a shareholder of the Junction Railroad, recently filed a bill in equity asking that the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad be enjoined from taking possession of certain land in the Twenty-seventh Ward, which had been deeded to it by the Jane-tion road. A plea was entered by the defendants contion road. A pica was calered by the decomplainant tending that inasmuch as the interest of the complainant only amounted to one share of stock, the actual value of which was $50, the United States court had no jurisdic-tion, as the law required a complainant to have an inter-ext amounting to $500. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 31 .- A religious young man gave a politician here on Saturday a tract, and the politician gave in return a little card, saying: "Here, pariner, take this; join can get two drinks on it at any anison in town." The card read: "For cary Clerk, John M. Nuckols, jr." The tract distributor car-ried the card to the Rey. W. H. Musgrove, and explained to him its alleged meaning. The minister read the card in his pulpit on Sunday morning, adding that it was good for two drinks. He dilated upon the evils it was good for two drinks. He dilated upon in the of intemperance and the scandalous manner in which candidates for office attained their ends. Mr. Nuckois and his faculty called on Mr. Musgrove in the evening and demanded an explanation as publicly given as was the insuit. Mr. Musgrove promised to do so but failed

Mr. Nuckols met Mr. Musgrove afterward, on the street and cailed for a retraction. Mr. Musgrove replied that he had no retraction to make, and that made the same circumstances he would repeat what he had already said. At this Mr. Nuckols struck the minister a severe blow in the eye, stargeting him back into the arms of bystanders Friends interfered and no more blows passed. Mr. Nuckols is a neplew of Governor Crutenden, of Missouri. The latest report from Mr. Musgrove is that he is confined to his bed and is delivious.

BEATEN TO DEATH WITH FISTS,

A RICH CATTLE RAISER SLANDERS A MAN'S WIFE WITH PATAL PESULT TO HIMSPLE. [BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

WINSTED, Coun., March 31. - "Frank" Grant, of Washington, a village in this county, is a fugitive from justice for killing George Hitchcock, a rich horse jockey, cattle raiser and farmer whose unrich horse jockey, cattle raiser and farmer whose unscruppionsness made him for many years a village terror. Some time ago Hitchcock was engaged by a violator of the State liquor law to defend him. In this trial "Frank" Grant was a witness and he incurred Hitchcock's enmity. By cunning law suits he involved Grant so that he lost all his property. Then he got him in jail and while he was those Hitchcock circulated stories against Grant's wife.
Three weeks ago Grant was released. He met Hitchcock and demanded a retraction, which was insultingly refused. Grant sprang upon him and beat him savagely with his fists. Soon after the assault Grant went over the border into the State of New-York. After a confluer ment of two weeks, Hitchcock attended a sale of his horses in New-York. He returned home on Thursday evening with difficulty, and grew rapidly worse until Saturday, when he died. It is alleged by the family that he died from the injuries inflicted by Grant.

DISHEARTENED MINERS RETURN TO WORK.

PITTSBURG, March 31 (Special).-Eight coal mines are running on the Pan Handle Railroad to-day at the 2 g cent rate. The operators at one of these nines offered the diggers a week ago 3 cents a bushel for coal solid in the local trade, and 2½ for that shipped to foreign markets. They refused to accept it. The opera-tors with frew the proposition, and to-day their miners returned to work for 212 cents for both local and foreign trade. There is also a break on the Baltimore and Ohio road. The miners at the Snowden mine returned to work at the 242 cent rate. A dispatch from the fourth work at the 2½ cent rate. A dispatch from the fourth pool says that the miners there are becoming disheartened. A committee of strikers failed to get out the nonunion men at Neil's mine and trouble is feared. Some of the strikers threaten violence, and talk of dynamite. The miners of Mercer County, in the northwestern part of the State, talk of strik my against a proposed reduction in the price from 60 to 50 cents per ton. It is a busy time with the river men. The indications are good for a coal boat stage of eight or nine feet within the next forty-eight hours. There will be sufficient water for barges to-morrow afternoon, and nearly ten millions of bushels of coal are loaded for shipment. It will not be long, from present indications, before the minerss' strike is over.

ANOTHER HEIR TO THE TOWNLEY ESTATE. CAMDEN, March 31-Still another heir to the Townley estate in England, which is valued at $100,000,000, has been found here in the person of R. T. Crane, sexton of the First Presbyterian Church. His grandmother was a Townley, daughter of Charles, youngest son of Lord Townley.

IMPROVEMENT IN THE TOBACCO TRADE. RICHMOND, March 31 (Special).-There was a revival in the manufacture of too acco in the month of March which is highly gratifying. In March, 1884, the revenue receipts amounted to $106,471, which was an excellent exhibit even when all business was good. In March of the present year, when everything is duil, the receipts were $105,453, being only $1,000 less than in March, 1884.

CONDITION OF GENERAL RARTON. General Barton, of the Bijou Opera House, is improving slowly. He is still extremely low, but it is hoped that the crisis of the disease is past. At least he is growing no worse. His courage and strong constitu-tion have alone rendered his recovery possible.

REMOVING BODIES FROM VAULTS. PHILADELPHIA, March 31 (Special) .- The Board of Health to-day decided to extend the time for removing bodies from vaults until April 21. By a pre-vious resolution it would have expired to-morrow.

Emisson, of Boston. REPUBLICAN PRIMARIES.

DELEGATES TO THE COUNTY COMMITTEE. THE REGULAR TICKETS CHOSEN IN MOST OF THE

DISTRICTS—WHERE THE CONTESTS WERE.

The Republican primaries, held in the various Assembly Districts yesterday and last evening, called out a larger vote than was expected. It was evident that in several of the districts a sharp struggle for supremacy between the rival fac-tions was being had. Even in the dis tions was bein tricts where triots where there was no a large vote was polled. In the HIId District the contest between the friends of Emigration Commissioner Charles N. Taintor and their opponents was shown in the heavy vote. It was late before the result of the contest was known. In the XIVth, XVIth and XVIIIth Districts the ticket headed by John R. Nugent, Michael Cregan and Bernard Biglin were elected after a sharp struggle. In each a large vote was polled. In the XVIIth District the contest between the friends of Police Commissioner John McClave and Stephen N. Simonson on the one side and Colonei Joel W. Mason on the other, called out a very heavy vote. This was not unexpected. It was nearly midnight before the result was announced. The ticket headed by Messrs. McClave and Simonson tive one. It includes a large proportion of the working Republicans of each district. The number of votes cast demonstrates the popularity of the scheme of reor ganization and shows conclusively that the Republican voters do take a lively interest in the primaries. James V. Byrne and Joseph F. O'Brien presided over the voting in the 1st Assembly District, at No. 28 Variek-st. As there was no contest not more than half of those enrolled recorded their votes. The names on the regular ticket were elected; 350 votes were recorded. The members of the County Committee are John A. Moran, Aubrey Cross, John Gallegher, Henry H. Edwards, Peter J. Kavanagh. Thomas F. Sheehan, Patrick H. Lyons, George White,

The election in the Hd District was held at No. 466

Pearl-st. There was only one ticket, for which 279 votes were cast. The delegates to the County Committee are Denis Shea, Thomas Stack, Michael Foley, Henry Hermanauz, Maurice Hyland, William Fitzgerald, Thoma F. Huggard.

There was a contest in the HIId District between the Charles N. Taintor and the Thomas Z. Geary factions, the latter ticket representing the XIVth Ward. No. 78 East Ninth-st. was the scene all day of continued skirmishing and at night it took fourteen stalwart policemen t repress the disposition of the crowd. The Taintor fac

Ninth-st. was the scene all day of continued skirmishing and at night it took fourteen stalwart policemen to repress the disposition of the crowd. The Taintor faction carried the day easily. The count showed 373 votes for the Taintor ticket to 180 for the Geary faction; 13 scattering. The delegates to County Committee were: Charles N. Taintor, James M. Varnum, Guy R. Pelton, James Branzan, Bernard P. Brogan, John F. Baker, Joseph Davis, Thomas Mulligan and John H. Fanning. In the IVth District harmony prevailed, and no one of the 421 men who cast their votes was challenged. The following are the delegates to the County Committee: William H. Townley, Patrick'H. Guilfoyle, Thomas H. C. Kincade, Charles S. Thorp, Augustus Schaffel, Charles E. Abbott, Henry J. Johnson, Thomas F. Grady.

The poiling place for the men of the Vith District was at No. 120 West Houston-st. C. L. Hency, assisted by four inspectors, took charge of the voting; 340 votes were recorded. The following were declared elected for delegates to County Committee: James D. Hawes, Alexander McQueen, Samuel E. Higher, E. C. Chamberlin, M. H. Carlin, John M. Smith, Frank Carroll, Joseph E. Muhling and C. L. Brockemeyer.

As carly as 2 p. m. yesierfaly a crewd almost blocked the sidewalk in front of No. 85 Attorney-st. where, in the evening, at the election of the Vith District, a context arose between John Simpson and John Stiebling. There was a great deal of challenging. It frequently occurred that when men found their names were called that others had voted for them. Twice a man applied after two men had voted on the strength of his signature. The Simpson faction elected their ticket, polling 400 of the 669 votes cast. The decagates to the County Committee are John Simpson, Julius D. Ludden, Adam Gernand, Endolph Mass, James H. Folan, George J. Goetz, John Fitzpatrick, Charles Megonegal James C. Kennedy.

The Primary election of the Villiam D. Hadolph Mass, James H. Folan, George B. Lawinowith the Held. The delegates to the County Committee are an E.

S. V. R. Cruger, George Bliss, Thomas H. Brown, Robert C. Armstrong, John C. O'Counor, Jr., James W. Hawes, A. P. Man, James Corrigan, Henry A. Beatty, Jacob H. Slams, Henry C. Overlin and Charles A. Peabody, Jr. No contest took place in the Mith District. There were 239 ballots cast out of an enrolled vote of 505. The following delegates to the County Committee were elected: George Hilliard, August Braun, William H. Hibber, Edward Platow, Frederick Bundstein, David W. Kohn, Joseph Meyer, William Steen, Charles S. Deller and Joel Lindler.

Aithough a fairly large vote was polled in the Milth District, Jio. 252 Eightb-ave., there was no contest. There was a total of 350 votes. The following were chosen delegates to the County Committee: Charles S. Spencer, Isaac Dayton, James A. Cowle, Fred. G. Gedney, H. I. Sprague, John D. McClain, Knox McAfee, Adolph Herrmann, George Hamann, George W. Pearce, Fred. B. House, Thomas L. Hamilton, Watter W. Montague, Charles Miller, Jr., Charles T. Polhenus.

In the XIVth District there were two tickets, known

hemus.

In XIVth District there were two tickets, known in Narceut and the Brady tickets. There were 396 of Nickets of which the Narceut ticket received 293. The following delecates to the County Committee were elected; John R. Nugent. George Kim, Fred P. Doerr, Jonn S. Phillips, Louis Lehman, Bruno W. Berger, Henry Klarman and Thomas Maguire.

Two tickets were in the field in the XVth District; the one designated as "regular" was elected. It contained the names of the following delegates to the County Committee: M. L. Hollister, K. A. Greacen, William M. Montgomery, John E. Carmody, E. A. Pettigrew, Joseph W. Deeley, Matthew Wilson, D. M. Robinson, J. S. McWilliam, George F. Hopper, John Frick, Heary G. Leask, E. T. Patterson, and Oliver Davis. There were 324 votes polled. The ballots were quietly deposited and there was no bitcherses between the supporters of the opposing tickets.

The context in the XVth District, although a sharp one, resulted in the election by a vote of about two to one of the Michael Crean ticket. The number of votes cast was 633, of which my Committee: William Tobin, Eichard M. Lush, Cornelius S. Conklin, Bernard T. Kearus, Edward Pope, Robert De Witt, Thomas W. Folsom, Peter shanley, Michael Cregan.

There was much agitation over the contest in the XVIII District. The headquarters at No. 341 West Forty-seventh-st. were crowded, and the electionering of the McClave and Mason adherents was vigorous and often vociferous. There was a third ticket in the field known as "The Workingmen's Ticket," which received comparatively few votes. The total vote was 1,052, the largest ever polled at a primary in the district. The adherents of Police Commissioner McClave and S. Praser, Samnel M. Slater, Richard J. Louis Brenner, Gordon, Joseph E. Narad, Abert M. Lee, Louis Brenner, Gordon, Joseph E. Narad, Abert M. Lee, Louis Wendel, Prederick and a vincrous contest was made by those opposed to the regular ticket, which was, however, elected by a strong majority. There were several policemen in attendanc votes: John H. Gunner, Inage Tiechman, Peter Ablass, Frank M. Tichener. Alfred G. Nason, Benjamin F. Melrose, Isaac Fromme, A. W. Herriman. Ezekiel Fizman, Charles Brickwedel, Emil C. W. Macholdt, Frederick L. Paetzold, George H. Cornish, Charles Carroll, N. J. O'Conneil, Jr., Christian Saunders, John Donohue, Michael Mahon.

In the XXIIId District there was a coutest between the regular ticket and that of the Young Men's Republican Clab: 763 votes were cast, of which the regular ticket not that of the Young Men's Republican Clab: 763 votes were cast. George B. Brown, Morris Friedsau, Aabbel P. Fitch, John Mulligan, John A. Eagleson, Moses E. Crasto, Benjamin Page, Hiram Becannon, Thomas Allison, Donald McLean, Henry Grasse, David F. Porter, Edward S. Simon, William E. Spooner, Guatayus Smith, William Haw, Charles H. Wheelock, James A. Colvin, Hanson C. Gibson, Henry Theobald, William C. Reddy, Thomas Kelleher, Edward Kendrick, Peter H. McDonald

Five hundred and cighteen votes were cast in the Twenty-third Ward, a part of the XXIVth District, of which the regular ticket received about 400. The following delegates were elected to the County Committee: William H. Ten Eyek, Ernest Hall, Thomas J. Rush, August Uhl, Henry Brann, John Muhall, Jr., George D. Henshaw, Harry Overington, J. Stewart Wilson. The Opposition ticket substituted the names of Louis F. Schneider and J. Homer Hildreth for those of William H. Ten Eyek and George A. Henshaw.

The Twenty-fourth Ward, a part of the XXIVth District, was held at One-hundred-and-seventy-seventh-st. and Fourth-ave. It passed off quietly. The following were closen delegates to the County Committee: William H. Ten Eyek and George and Hower Hildreth for those of William H. Ten Eyek and George and Homer Hildreth for those of William H. Ten Eyek and George and Homer Hildreth for those of William H. Ten Eyek and George and Homer Hildreth for those of William H. Ten Eyek and George and Homer Hildreth for those of William H. THOMAS F. HILLIARDS, [BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

TITUSVILLE, Penn., March 31.-Thomas F. Hilliards, the oldest railroad man in this region, died yesterday of pneumonia. At the time of his death he was roadmaster over the entire system of Buffalo, New-York and Philadelphia Railroad lines. He was born in Ireland in 1819. When he was twenty-five years old he laid the wooden tracks of the New-York Central at Roch ester. In 1846 he built the Auburn and Rochester road; ester. In 1840 ac butte the Anoura and Roceaster road in 1848, the New-York and Erle; in 1850, the Michigan Southern; and in 1852, the Central Military of Illinois. Afterward he was connected with the Chicago, Burlington and Quiney, and in 1853 he went back to the Michigan Southern again. From 1854 to 1866 he was engaged in laying the New-York Central tracks. Later he built the cross cut route from Corry, Penn., to Brockton, and also the Oil Creek road from Oil City, Penn., to Corry.

ROBERT F. AUSTIN.

Robert F. Austin, senior partner of Austin, Nichols & Co., the well-known wholesale grocers, died suddenly yesterday morning at his home, No. 435 Clinton-ave., Brooklyn. He was born in 1828, in the northern part of this State. When a young man he renorthern part of this State. When a young man he removed to Albany, where he secured prominence as a business man and took an active part in politics. He served a term as a member of the Assembly about thirty years ago. In 1861 he came to this city and entered the firm of which Austin, Nichols & Co., of No. 61 Hudson-st., are the successors. Mr. Austin soon took a leading place among the business men of the city, and his firm was highly successful. About ten years ago he became a member of the Chamber of Commerce. Last Wednesday he was in Albany, and appeared before a legislative committee. The following day he was taken sick, and yesterday morning a congestive chill ended his life. He left a widow and one son. The funeral will take place on Saturday.

A meeting of the grocery trade of this city was held yesterday afternoon at the Mercantile Exchange, F. H. Legget in the chair. H. K. Thurber, after paying a high tribute to the deceased man, offered resolutions regetting his death, which were unanimously adopted.
